ECONOMICS IN THE DIGITAL AGE

SPONSORSHIP PACKAGE

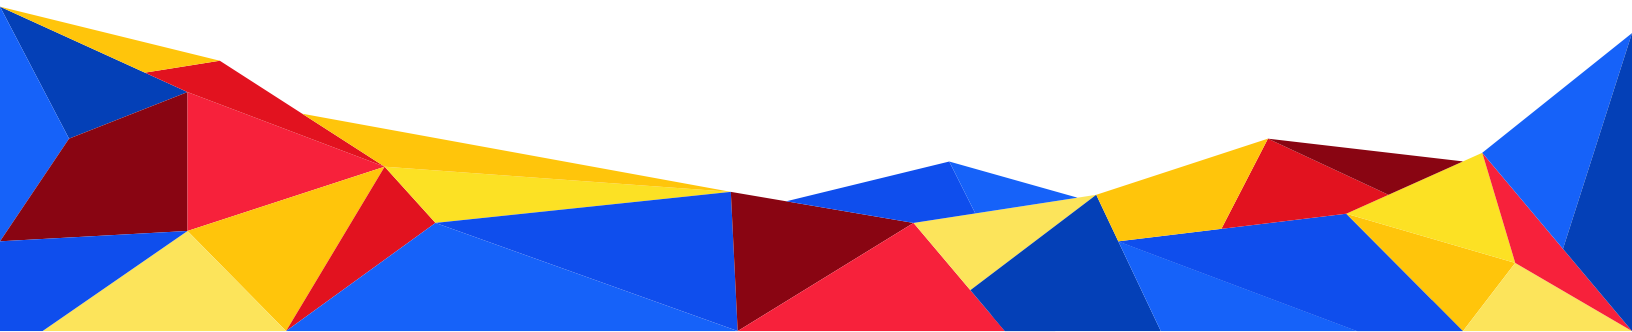

WHAT IS ECONOMICS IN THE DIGITAL AGE

As Canada's only undergraduate conference focused solely on economics and digital information, Economics in the Digital Age allows students to develop their understanding of economics' role in 'Big Data'. This three day conference will act as a platform for students to collaborate in an academic and competitive playground.

We value your interest in EDA and we invite you to spend a weekend with our delegates.

The conference will take place October 19th - 21st.

Message From the Department

Thank you for considering supporting the Queen's Economic Affairs Society.

The QEAS has been developed in order to create a community for students who are interested in economics by providing extracurricular opportunities such as conferences and alumni guest lectures.

As part of their 2017-18 Economic Forum, the QEAS is currently planning Economics in the Digital Age. This event is designed to introduce students to current and upcoming trends in global and domestic markets through workshops, case competitions and dynamic simulations. Guest speakers from various industries will add to the experience by sharing their wisdom with an audience of ambitious students.

The Queen's Economics Department is very supportive of student initiatives like the QEAS. There are multiple benefits to students when they challenge themselves to apply their knowledge, be it as organizers or participants. They sharpen their leadership skills and work in teams, complementing their academic efforts.

I encourage you to become involved with the Queen's Economic Affairs Society. You will interact with some of Queen's University's brightest students. Their talents will impress you, as will their energy and enthusiasm.

Sincerely,

Huw Lloyd-Ellis
Professor and Department Head
Queen's Economics Department

QED

Dear Potential Partner,

The Queen's Economic Forum is a platform, hosted by the Queen's Economic Affairs Society, that hosts several conferences throughout the year. We pride ourselves on providing unique opportunities for students to explore and analyze some of the most important market sectors around the world.

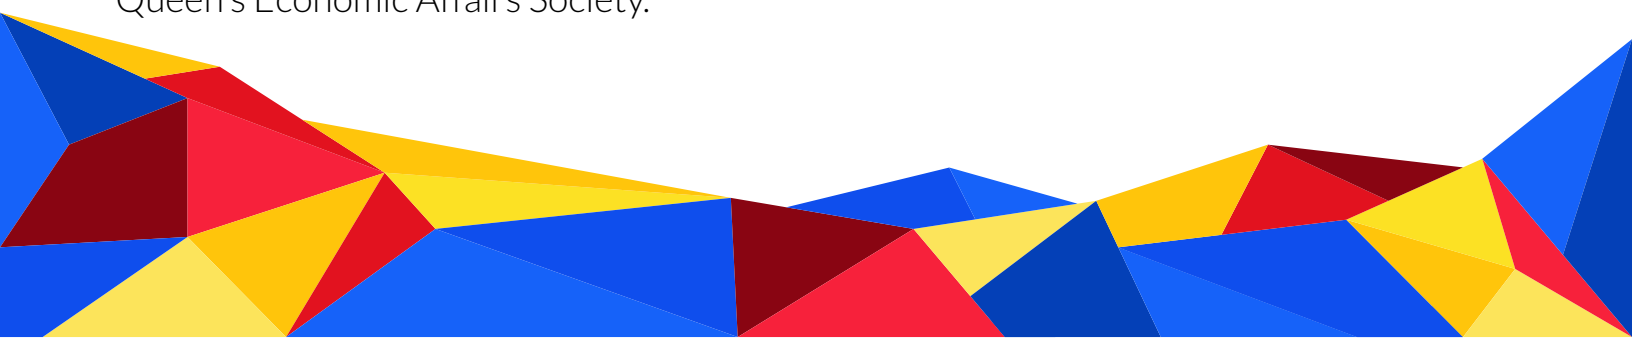

Economics in the Digital Age is a conference that explores the social and economic impacts of the most innovative and disruptive industry in our world today, Information technology. With new businesses coming online every day, our world is becoming a more connected place, and thus, a vast amount of information is becoming available to business executives, industry strategists as well as consumers. Economics in the Digital Age explores the impacts of Big Data on our society, highlighting key opportunities as well as hurdles that are on the horizon.

Economics in the Digital Age is a three-day conference consisting of partners, varying from business leaders in information technology to leading academics doing research in economics. The conference provides opportunities for students to develop a deeper understanding of Big Data and also apply their skills in multiple workshops, dynamic simulations as well as a case competition. While the conference is open to all students at Queen's University, sponsors can expect to see students with backgrounds in economics, computer science, engineering as well as commerce.

Throughout the conference, there will be opportunities for our sponsors to network, promote their companies, and request one-on-one coffee chats with delegates/executive members. With your help, Economics in the Digital Age will successfully build a bridge between establishments such as yours, and Canada's top undergraduate university students. Our opening ceremonies will be taking place through Thursday, October 19th to Saturday, October 21st.

We hope that you will join us in becoming a part of the Queen's Economic Forum. On behalf of the Society, it is our pleasure to invite you to participate in this year's competition and we look forward to discussing sponsorship opportunities with you.

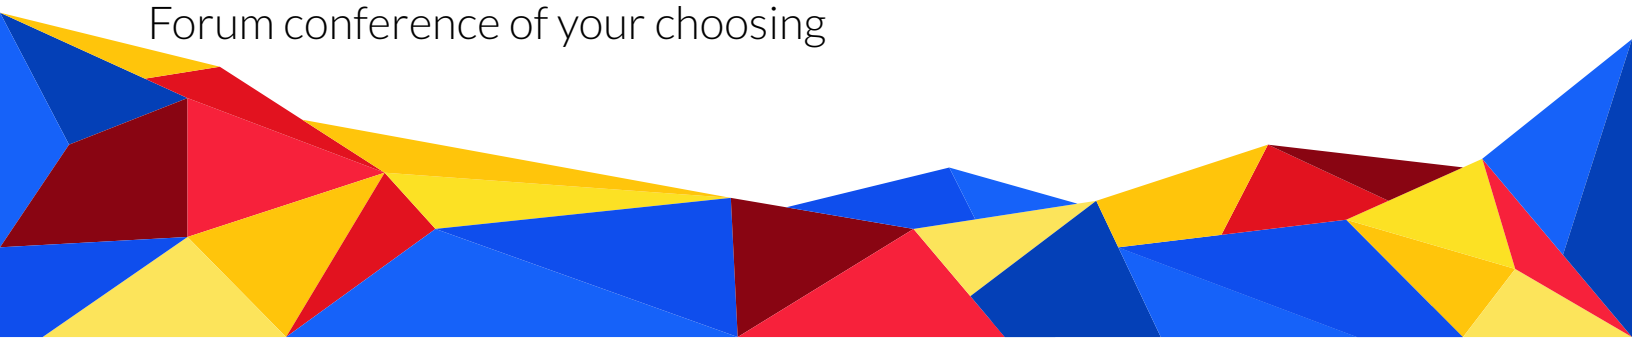

Sincerely,
Alexei Mojeiko & Carson O'Sullivan, Co-Founders
Queen's Economic Affairs Society.
